Saturday's primary was very hotly contested by Democratic candidates in Powell. The result, of course, was disappointing to the defeated candidates and their friends. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Subject: The Sin of Gossip and Scandal.
Reading: Ps. 120:1-7; Ex. 20:16.
Leader: Mrs. A. P. Johnson.

Preaching service after program.

R. S. Crowe, editor Beattyville Enterprise, passed through town Tuesday morning on his way to Danville to attend the burial of his sister-in-law, who had died in Memphis.

Killing on Hardwick's Creek.

Early yesterday morning the report came to town of the killing of Holden Ballard, aged 30, by his uncle, Clem Abney, on Elk Lick Fork of Hardwick's creek. There were no witnesses to the killing. Coroner Sylvester Larison held an inquest over the remains, and found the body badly torn up by shotgun wounds. Abney went to Stanton and surrendered to the authorities. No particulars of the killing have been learned. Ballard is survived by a widow and one child. Mrs. Ballard was a Miss Adams, daughter of the late Otto Adams, of this city.

Ballard was one of the registrants in the Powell county draft and held call number 161.

Road Bonds Defeated in Estill.

The proposition to vote $150,000 in road bonds in Estill county, failed Saturday by 84 votes. The people of Estill, to our knowledge, are a flame for good roads, and would have voted twice this much in bonds if they had thought that was the best way to get them. And Estill county has one of the best and most dependable Fiscal Courts in the country too, and the prospects are good for a splendid succeeding court, but the experience, or failure, of other counties to get the roads, after selling bonds and spending the money, had a bad effect with the Estill voters. So they remained on the safe side.

Some Few Errors.

There were some few errors in the unofficial list of men registered and called for service as published in these columns last week and the week before. The list as published, however, is so nearly correct that we shall not publish it again, as the few mistakes will all be passed, and all know their place by the time the paper can get to them.

Out on Bail

James Bellis, who is charged with killing a co-resident of a Cincinnati flat, has given bail and returned to Irvine. Mr. Bellis formerly resided in Clay City and conducted a barber shop. He has a wife and daughter.

To Preach Here.

Rev. Giffen, President of Stanton College, will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on Sunday the 19th of August. A cordial invitation is extended to the people of the community to be present.

Another Drouth.

We have had no rain to speak of for more than two weeks and it is getting pretty dry again. From sections the drouth is said to be cutting corn crops very short. Farmers have had a good season for late haying.

Salt High.

There has been a sharp advance in salt and it is claimed it is still going higher. This condition, it is said, will cause the resumption of the old salt industry at Manchester, Clay county.

Among the First to France

Among the "First to Fight" Marines who have gone to France is Harvey L. Wells, of Stanton, a corporal of the 51st Company, according to advices just made public.

Corporal Wells, who is a son of Mrs. Sallie Wells Williams, of Stanton, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Detroit, Michigan recruiting station August 22, 1916.

He has displayed such marked military ability and daring that he was among the first to be chosen "to do his bit" overseas. The Marines who have been selected to represent their country first in the war for democracy are proud of the recognition bestowed upon them and they go with the best wishes of the entire nation.

Our readers may well be proud of the local boy and wish him the best of success as a U. S. Marine—one who is willing to die, if necessary, to uphold the honor of his home and country.

Clark County Candidates.

George Hon, a native of Powell county, was nominated for State Senator in the Clark-Montgomery-Bourbon district Saturday by a large majority. Orlando Hoskin was nominated for Assessor by the Clark Democrats. Mr. Hoskin is a son of the late Wm. Hoskin, also a son of Powell county and a first cousin to Mr. Hon, the nominee for Senator. John W. Swope, also a Powell county man was nominated for Representative. Judge Lee Evans was re-nominated for County Judge over Judge W. C. Taylor by a small majority.

Wants Oil Wells Put Down.

Lease owners have been advertising to get drillers to sink oil wells on leases near Clay City. Drilling rigs seem to be very scarce in this section. The fact that promoters are trying to get wells drilled in this vicinity sounds encouraging to us, and here's hoping the drillers will soon be found, and that later they will find that pool of oil that all oil men say is bound to be near somewhere, but so far has not been located.

Scarcity of Cream.

A representative of a Cincinnati butter company was here Saturday looking up new shippers. He said cream was very scarce, and, as everybody knows, very high.

Chas. Welch, one of the original cream shippers from this place, seems to be the banner shipper of the county, he frequently getting as high as 54¢ test on his cream, and realizing more than $8 per five gallon can for his cream. He ships to a Lexington creamery.

New Wood Saw Rig.

W. F. Burnett and Carter Reynolds have bought a new wood saw rig and will cut a lot of wood for sale. The high price of coal, and the great difficulty experienced in getting it at all, has made wood very popular for cooking purposes.

THURSDAY, AUG. 9, 1917.

The farmers of Powell county should well feel proud of the opportunity they have of getting the benefits of the county agent, Mr. Howard H. Harrison. At timely intervals, he is mailing to the farmers of the county who have given him their addresses, very valuable bulletins. If the people of the county will give proper recognition to our agent, and co-operate with him, we feel sure he will be of great benefit to them. We must be progressive, particularly in farming pursuits. The most of the county is fit only for agriculture and the natural growth of timber. The timber will grow by letting it alone and keeping fires from it, but with the agricultural interests, we must improve by "making two blades of grass grow where but one did grow." And the best way to do this is to get in touch with the men who know how. The Federal Government, through the influence of Mr. Fred Blackburn, our member of the State Board of Agriculture, has sent such a man into our midst and paying the bill. Will we not use him?

In the sale of the recent Liberty Loan bonds, the Government, we learn, spent one million dollars with the city papers for advertising. Every dollar of this went to the city papers to pay them for running the very same advertising that the country papers were asked to run out of a patriotic spirit, and they did it. We well know that the Government didn't pay us a cent for advertising bonds. The Clay City National Bank ran some advertising and paid us for it. Aside from this all the Government matter has been a thank-you job.

Now, we do not care for doing this advertising gratis, but when it comes to paying one class of papers and another class nothing we kick. The Government should deal fair with its people. We thus hope to see an appropriation for advertising the next Liberty Loan bonds, to go the country and city press, or none to the city press as none was sent to the country papers before.

Pay all the papers for this work or pay none of the papers for it.

It is the policy of all newspapers to never boost any form of money-making entertainment unless the managers thereof show the press sufficient courtesy to advertise in such paper. We are deviating from this rule this week, but we are doing so for the benefit of our friends, and particularly so on account of our valued correspondent at Stanton.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua will be at Stanton, Aug. 17, 18 and 20. Our Stanton correspondent has a nice write-up for them this week. They have not advertised in The Times as they have done in other county papers where they have been. Notwithstanding this uncourteous act on the part of the Chautauqua, The Times urges its readers to attend. The Chautauqua is a fine affair and worth the time and price. We say this not for the benefit of the leaders of the Chautauqua, but for the benefit of the business men who guarantee its finance, and for the benefits to be gained by attending.

The new assessor, by the way, who will be John F. Woodard, the recent Democratic nominee who has no Republican opponent, will find the work very different from former years. The new assessment laws take effect in time for this year's assessment. The tangible and intangible property will be assessed separately, and of course taxed separately. The job will be far more difficult to execute than formerly and should pay more, but it will not. It is a mere matter of conjecture if the new form of taxation will yield more income to the State. It was designed to do so, but it is the prediction of The Times that it will not be near so much, consequently the whole thing will have to be done over again, which will result in a little more tax falling where it should not. The beginning is to be made this fall when farmers must assess their chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, and etc.

Our good friend and protege, Mr. I. G. Jackson, now foreman of the Danville Messenger, writes The Times a most interesting letter this week which we publish on this page of the current issue. Mr. Jackson is one of the best printers in the Bluegrass section and is held in the highest esteem by his employers. There is no better proof of this than the fact that since he left the county eighteen years ago, he has been engaged continuously at his trade, and has made but one change, that being a few years ago when he went from the Harrodsburg Democrat to the Danville Messenger. The success attained by Mr. Jackson has been acquired by close attention to his business and keeping everlastingly at it.

The State administration claims to have carried the majority of Representative candidates in Saturday's primary. This is of minor importance to the people now, that Stanley has come over to the dry side, and Democracy is alike everywhere. The Times always prefers supporting the administration when the administration supports the people and their best measure. Some are inclined to doubt Stanley's sincerity when he says he is for submitting a State-wide amendment to the people. We see no need for alarm, as Stanley has always stood for his constituency. The trouble has always been the overwetness of his folk. We believe he will be just as true to the dry side.

The Powell county Board of Exemption, composed of Dr. I. W. Johnson, Sheriff H. T. Derickson and County Clerk I. S. Boone, is doing a very noble work, according to what we have learned of the first day's work. Those appearing before the board speak of the gentlemen composing it in the highest terms, and all feel sure that they will do the right thing. The boys, in most instances, have responded nobly.

The per capita wealth in this country is $2,255. Have you yours?

Letter from Mr. Jackson.

Editor Times:—

I am sending you under separate cover copy of 94-page catalogue, which I have just finished printing, and which was gotten out entirely under my supervision. Examine it and see if your apprentice of twenty years ago has made much progress in the "art preservative."

I often think of the happy days when I was learning the trade in your little printing office at Spout Springs, when the Times first saw the light of day nearly twenty-two years ago, the honorable career of which paper I am justly proud. Although I have been living in this fine bluegrass country eighteen years, my thoughts often revert to the happy days spent in the Hardwick's Creek and Spout Spring neighborhoods.

I believe every true man or woman always loves the place of his or her birth. That section of the old Commonwealth will always be home to me and I never miss an opportunity to go back there that I may enjoy the grandeur of its beautiful hills and valleys.

It is with deep regret that I note the death of many old friends and relatives recorded in your excellent paper from time to time and when I look back and count up, I find the list is long, one of the last being Mr. Thomas S. McKinney, of Spout Spring.

Not long since I ran across the following verse, which brought vividly to mind the old mill of my boyhood days about which I have spent many happy hours.

"While I slumber, no romanay
Often to my mood doth yield,
When some dream or idle fancy
Of my childhood is revealed;
Then I seem to see a miller
And his mill of long ago,
With its drapery of willow
Tipping in the stream below,
Where the scolding surging water
Dashes madly all around
Mid a rhythmic clack and clatter
As the pearly grist is ground."

The older residents of the Hardwick's Creek community will recognize the place I have in mind. The old mill is still standing, but is much changed in appearance, and the miller that I knew has long since departed to the "silent shore."

"Hill, my soul! That dusty toiler
Never more shall ply his skill!
Never more shall bare his shoulder
To the burdens of the mill!
Down the stream of countless ages
Time and man alike are borne,
Where the torrent frets and rages
Man's engulfed but time slips on.
Yet we must not call this dying,
'Tis but human destiny,
Pressing forward and defying
Time until the judgment day.
Onward we shall drift and ever,
'Till some Charon-lifted oar,
Tipping moonlit waves of silver,
Pilots to the silent shore."

The Farms Will Feed the People

WHEN we consider that 61% of the whole population of this Country lives in cities, we can understand the need of an increase in food products, which come chiefly from the farms. It is an urgent call. It is a call upon the patriotism of every farmer, farm hand and land owner. Every acre should produce its quota of food products. The time to plan for this result is at hand. No delay can be allowed. Plant big acreage. Plan for a big yield. Work for a bumper crop. Prices will be good. The Country's need is the farmer's opportunity.

Election over; everything went off quiet here as usual, and if every nominee feels clear that he used no money, treated his fellow man as he would like to be treated, then the nomination is an honor. But the ones who used whiskey in this precinct will long be remembered in races to come—as some were in this race.

The success of the dry movement will mean more women and children with red cheeks and fewer men with red noses.

Studebaker

WAGONS BUGGIES HARNESS

AMPLE PROOF THAT IT DOES—AND IS DOING—ITS WORK

My father purchased our Studebaker before I was born. I remember having seen it 40 years ago. Just a short time ago I hauled 3,000 pounds of coal on this wagon, so you can judge it is some wagon yet, for an old one.

I use the old Studebaker every day or whenever I need a wagon. It has always stood out in all kinds of weather up to eight or nine years ago, when I commenced keeping it under cover.

Charles Stratton, Andover, Ohio

Hauls 3000 pounds of coal on 40 year old Studebaker

In the 80 acre lumber yard of Studebaker at South Bend is the largest stock of wagon material in the world—and none has been more carefully selected.

The good material isn't the whole answer—it is combined with skilled workmanship and that's why Studebaker wagons last forty years.

Studebakers build wagons today just as strong as they built them forty years ago. And the wagon that lasts longest is the cheapest wagon in the end.

There are a lot of reasons why the next wagon you buy should be a Studebaker.

We have just received a car load of Studebaker wagons, and by buying them in car load lots can save you money. We have them in the following sizes—size 3 1-4 in. with tires 1 3-4 in. wide, size 3 1-4 in. with tires 1 1-2 in. wide, size 3 in. with tires 1 3-4 in. wide, size 3 in. with tires 1 1-2 in. wide, size 2 3 4 in. with tires 1 1 2 in. wide and size 2 1 2 in. with 1 1 2 in. tires.

We invite you to call when in need of anything in merchandise. It is our aim to keep as near as is possible every thing the people call for. We handle good, up-to-date goods and at prices that will save you money. If you are interested in saving money in this way call and see what we can do for you.

Willie Ledford, Otis Powell, Carl Hendrix and Dr. Lawrence Knox, Nada; J. J. Reed of Walnut Grove; John Ashley of Winchester, and uncle Jim Holman of Filson.

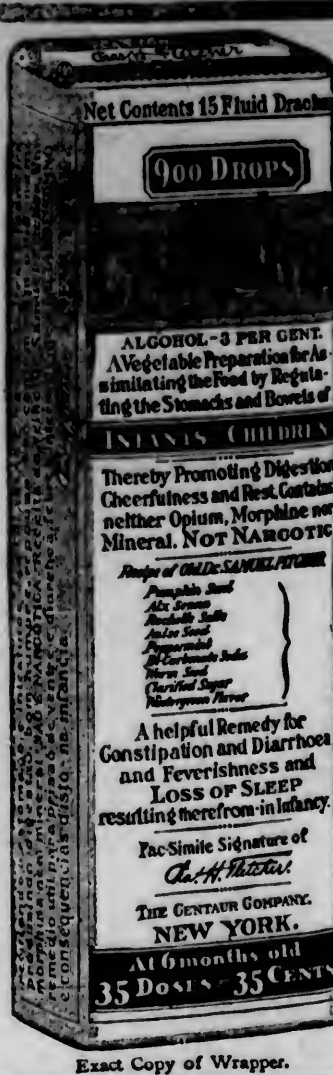

Mrs. Henry Morris was thrown from a buggy this week and severely hurt. They were going down hill when the horse began kicking, kicking her twice and overturning the buggy. She is resting well at the home where she used to live and where her daughter Edna now lives.

Among those who left Wednesday to attend the Bluegrass Fair were Mrs. J. W. Williams and daughter Anita Wells, Mrs. Jas. Baker and daughter Catherine, J. S. Ewen, wife and two boys, Florin and William; Mrs. Robt. Ewen, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hardwick, Holt Derickson, Colson Blackburn, Howard Harrison, Henry Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Conlee.

The entertainment given by Miss Virginia Slade, Tuesday evening, was very fine. A very select and appreciative audience with delight heard her recite and impersonate with great skill and ability. We are sure that if everybody in Stanton had heard her they would have felt repaid for coming. The entertainment being given for the benefit of the cemetery fence, we really looked for a larger crowd present, but were quite disappointed. The entertainment was well worth the little amount of money asked. Yes, it was really very fine and you missed much as well as not helping in a worthy cause.

Commencing Wednesday night of this week we will continue as formerly our Union Prayer Meetings. This week at Presbyterian church, then at the Christian church—alternating thus every other week. Mr. Giffen, the new Principal of Stanton College, is very desirous that friendly and brotherly spirit exist between the two churches while he is here and that meets with our approval. So, let us all come together and have some fine meetings as we used to do in the days long gone by. You will enjoy the splendid talks by Bro. Giffen. We heard quite a compliment as to his sermons and talks, this week, and we feel like sharing with the rest of our Stanton people and other readers of this paper. Several letters have been received by some Stanton students asking them to come to a college further up in the mountains. One of these was planning to go to that college but, since Bro. Giffen has come into our midst and she has heard him several times, she said she couldn't think of going now as she would not miss those wonderful sermons and talks of his for anything and she had fallen in love with those splendid messages from the pulpit. We hear on all sides fine things said about Mr. Giffen's preaching, and he is being liked more and more as he mingles among the people.

The advance man for the Chautauqua was here last week and helped to complete the organization of the committees. The blue and the red sides were chosen up and these are now actively at work selling tickets. The Chautauqua this year is to be finer than it was last year. That will be saying a great deal, for we all know how we enjoyed it

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Moore City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial. J. 71 last year. Dr. William Rader, the celebrated orator and lecturer, will be here the first day. The Columbia Concert Company also will entertain the audience that day. The second day Elmer W. Smith, another noted lecturer and orator, and the famous Tyrolean Alpine Yodlers, will delight the people. The third day will perhaps be the greatest day of all for the little people, as well as older ones. Besides Samuel Hungerford and living Engle, Durno, the mysterious, will give his marvelous exhibition sleight of hand performances. These will mystify us all and keep us wondering for years to come how he did such things. On Sunday there will be special services by some members of the Chautauqua. This will be as fine as any feature of the other three days. We trust that everybody for miles around will attend on this day as well as Friday, Saturday and Monday. Don't forget the dates, August 17, 18 and 20th of this year. Come one, come, both great and small.
